

Welsh Target Shooting Federation

Code of Ethics

Introduction

The term “ethics” is derived from the Greek word ethos which can mean custom, habit, character or disposition. So, in simple terms, Welsh Target Shooting Federation ethics are the moral standards we rely on when we make decisions, manage, and participate in our sport/activity. Our code will become our norm it will define what is right and outline the kind of behaviour that is expected throughout our sport.

Welsh Target Shooting Federation ethical values include basic concepts and fundamental principles of decent social behaviour, the right of natural justice, respect for the rules and regulations of our sport/activity concern for health and safety and for the environment. At the heart of Welsh Target Shooting Federation ethics is acknowledgement and concern about something or someone outside of our own self-interest and needs.
