Commonwealth Shooting Reports/results 1966-2018

Shooting sports have been contested at the Commonwealth Games at every games since 1966 with the exception of the 1970 Commonwealth Games. Events were open until they were segregated by gender in 1994 for pistol and most rifle events and in 2002 for trap and skeet events; the full bore rifle competitions remained open.

1966 - Kingston

The 1966 British Empire and Commonwealth Games were held in Kingston Jamaica, from 4 to 13 August 1966. This was the first time that the Games had been held outside the so-called White Dominions. They were followed by the 1966 Commonwealth Paraplegic Games for wheelchair athletes. Jamaica remains the only host nation of a Commonwealth Games that did not win at least one gold medal in its own games.

Shooting which was held in these Games for the first time, attracted the second highest number of countries (only Athletics had more) It proved one of the best organized of the nine Sports, and the fact that things ran so smoothly can be attributed to the tremendous co-operation received from everyone concerned, the Organising Committee, the various sub committees and Brigadier David Smith Officers and Men of Jamaica Defence Force.

There were five shooting events.

The .303 Calibre Service rifle was fired at Twickenham Park Range over Queens Prize Course, the first stage Friday, August 5, the second on Saturday August 6, and the final on Monday, August 8. Three Pistol events and the .22 calibre small-bore Rifle Prone Match were fired on the Wareeika Ranges.

The Jamaica Rifle Association was most happy to welcome to Jamaica Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Palmer, Mr. Palmer being the Official I. S. U. Representative for the Pistol and small-bore Rifle Shooting; Capt. LeMesurier, Secretary of the N.R.A, of England who came to supervise the running of the service Rifle Events; Lt. Col. G. Hawkins, Chief Range Officer for the Full - bore Rifle matches; P.J. McMahon, Chief Range Officer for the Smallbore Rifle and Pistol Events; Sqd. Leader C. Lacedy-Stevens, Asst. Range Officer for the Full-bore Rifle Event; Bill White, Armourer, and D. J. Black of England.

They did a tremendous job and helped considerably in the smooth operation of Shooting. Also, to Major M. C. Walsh of the Jamaica Defence Force for placing his workshop at the disposal of Bill White the Armourer, and for having placed at our disposal, the services of Staff Sgt. John Sage.

A meeting of the Shooting Technical Committee was arranged by the Federation and in attendance were representatives of the Federation and the 8th British Empire and Commonwealth Games Organising Committee. The Agenda for this meeting was similar to the Agendas drawn up for the other sports. At this meeting Bernard Cridland was elected Chairman and Anthony Williamson, Hon. Secretary. A further meeting was held on July 31, but at the first meeting the International juries were appointed.

SERVICE RIFLE S.R.(b)EVENTS

Fired under Queens prize conditions first, second and third stages,

This event was won by Lord Swansea with a remarkably high score of 394, Swansea out of a possible 405 made up as follows:

103 out of IO5 in the first stage, 146 out of 150 in the second stage 145 out of I50 in the third stage. Second after a tie shoot was R.G Stewart of Papua and New Guinea with a score 381 and third T.N Sutherland, New Zealand also with a score of 381.

FREE PISTOL

The Free Pistol Match was on Thursday, August 9 and found Charles Sexton of England the winner with a score of 544, second Jules Sobrian of Canada with a score of 538, and third Garfield McMahon of Canada with a score of 336.

CENTRE-FIRE PISTOL MATCH

Shot on Wednesday, August 10 this Match produced Jamaica's only Shooting Medal, a third place Bronze for Billy Machado. Machado led the field at the end of the Precision shooting with a score of 288.

Nearest to him at that stage was Gilbert Shaw of Jamaica with 284, Garfield McMahon of Canada with 284, Bert Manhin - Trinidad 283, James Lee of Canada and Anthony Clark of England with 282 each. Unfortunately, Machado was not able to produce his best form for the Silhouette Shooting held that afternoon and first place for the Match was taken by Lee with a score of 576. Second was Clark with a score of 575 and third Machado with a score of 571.

RAPID FIRE PISTOL MATCH

Held on Thursday, August 11, the range was visited by T.R.H. Prince Philip, Prince Charles and Princess Anne with a Party which included the Chairman of the Federation, Sir Arthur Porritt and the Chairman of the Organising Committee, Mr. Herbert Macdonald. The match was won by Anthony Clark of England with a was score won of by 585, Second was Michael Papps (Australia) with a score of 578 and third was Jules Sobrian (Canada) with a score of 572.

SMALL-BORE RIFLE

This Match was fired on Friday, August 12 in variable weather conditions and had the most entries of any of the Shooting competitions as there were 32 Shooters involved. In view of the limited firing point accommodation (twenty) and as is permitted by I. S. U. Rules, we divided them in half, one half firing first squad morning and first squad afternoon, the other half second squad morning and second squad afternoon.

The Match was won by Gil Boa of Canada with a score of 587, second was Brian Lacey, New Zealand with 585 and third John Murphy of Australia with 584.

GENERAL REMARKS

It was indeed most disappointing to all who had any connection with Shooting in these Games, to learn that the City of Edinburgh who were awarded the 9th Games in 1970 had not included this Sport as one of those that would be staged there.

When it became very evident that Shooting was to be omitted from the 9th Games, a protest Meeting was held at the Wareika Rifle and Pistol Range at which representatives from 14 of the 20 Shooting countries signed the following motion:

"In view of the popularity of Shooting in the 8th British Empire and Commonwealth Games when the entries of 20 nations were exceeded only by Athletics, despite the fact that this is the first time that Shooting has been included, this Meeting urgently requests that representation be made through Constitutional Procedure, for the revision of the 1970 programme to include the sport of Shooting".

This was incorporated in the draft of a letter, copies of which were taken away by Shooters and Team Officials to be sent to their International Shooting Associations.

It is hoped that all International Shooting Associations in the Commonwealth will support the resolution and send it to their International Council for the Commonwealth Games, who in turn, if they approve, will forward the resolution to the British Commonwealth Games Federation in London with a copy, for information, to the Council for Scotland.

During these Games the "Commonwealth Shooting Federation", who will have their headquarters in London, was also formed.

1974 - Christchurch

Following the tragic 1972 Munich Olympics' Security in New Zealand at each of the venues and athlete village was tightened.

The Christchurch 1974 British Commonwealth Games were the first large-scale international athletic event to follow the tragic massacre of the Israeli athletes at the 1972 Munich Olympics

Therefore, Christchurch was the first multi-sport event to place the safety of participants and spectators as its uppermost requirement.

The athlete's village, which was the student accommodation of Canterbury University, was surrounded by security guards and there was an exceptionally high-profile police presence. Only official vehicles and persons were only allowed into sensitive areas around the venues.

Even so, Christchurch produced a wonderful Games and charmed the watching world as a city of beautiful churches and gardens. Christchurch was - and still is - the smallest city to host the modern televised Commonwealth Games.

In these games Wales had 12 competitors competing. Winning two medals Silver medals with William (Bill) Watkins in the 50m Prone event and Philip Lewis in the Trap event.

Edmonton 1978

The 1978 Commonwealth Games was held in Edmonton Alberta, Canada from 3 to 12 August 1978, two years after the 1976 Summer Olympics were held in Montreal, Quebec. They were boycotted by Nigeria, in protest of New Zealand's sporting contacts with apartheid-era South Africa, as well as by Uganda, in protest of alleged Canadian hostility towards the government of Idi Amin. The Bid 1978 CG Election was held at the 1972 Summer Olympics in Munich.

This was the first Commonwealth Games where a computerised system was used to handle ticket sales. These were the first Commonwealth Games to be named Commonwealth Games, having dropped British. The Welsh shooting success continued in 1978 when the Games moved to Edmonton, Alberta

Bill Watkins (Wal), Jock Allan (S), Stewart Waterson (IoM)

It came in the 50 metre Prone Rifle event when "Bill Watkins" won Bronze. On that occasion medals were decided over the aggregate of two 60 shot matches, spread over two days.

Wales had 10 shooting athletes competing in six events held in Edmonton Team was managed & coached by Glen Williams.

1982 Brisbane

The 1982 Commonwealth Games were held in Brisbane Queensland Australia from 30 September to 9 October 1982.

Bidding for the XII Commonwealth Games was held in Montreal, Canada at the 1976 Summer Olympics. On 14 July 1976 it was announced that Brisbane had won the rights to stage the Games after the other candidate cities withdrew bids earlier that year.

Brisbane was awarded by default of being the only Candidate City left at the bid election after Birmingham reversed its decision to submit an application. Nigeria's boycott of the Montreal Summer Olympics made Lagos' bid lobbying impractical. The Montreal Summer Olympics were plagued with cost overruns and bidding on a sports festival anywhere in the world was not good politically.

Participating teams

46 Commonwealth nations and territories took part in the 1982 Commonwealth Games. A total of 1,583 athletes and 571 officials participated in the event. The Griffith University student dormitories in Gold Coast was used as an athlete's village.

The Welsh shooting success continued in 1982 when the Games moved to Brisbane.

Wales had 11 shooting athletes contesting the 20 shooting events. This was the first Commonwealth Games where pairs events were contested.

"Bill" Watkins partnered with Colin Harris winning the Silver medal in the 50m Prone pairs competition, Bill Watkins followed this up with a Bronze medal (for his fourth Commonwealth medal) in the Individual 50 m competition.

1986 Edinburgh

Unlike the 1970 Games in Edinburgh, which were popular and successful, the 1986 Games are ill-famed for the wide political boycott connected with them and the resulting financial mismanagement

The majority of Commonwealth nations staged a boycott, meaning that the Games appeared largely to be a whites-only event. Thirty two of the eligible fifty nine countries, largely African, Asian and Caribbean states, stayed away because of the Conservative government's policy of keeping Britain's sporting links with apartheid South Africa in preference to participating in the general sporting boycott of that country. Consequently, Edinburgh 1986 witnessed the lowest turnout since Auckland 1950. Bermuda was a particularly late withdrawal, as its athletes had appeared in the opening ceremony and in the opening day of competition before the Bermuda Olympic Association decided to formally withdraw.

Further controversy arose when it was revealed that through this much-reduced participation and the resultant decline in anticipated broadcasting and sponsorship revenues, the Organising Committee was facing a big financial black hole. The boycott ended any prospect of securing emergency government assistance.

Businessman Robert Maxwell stepped in to offer funding, taking over as chairman; but although he promised to invest £2m, his contribution was just £250,000. On a budget of £14m, the Games opened with a deficit of £3m, which later grew to £4.3m, and instead of putting enough money into the event to save it, the new chairman of the Games asked creditors to forgo half the payment due to them to keep the event out of liquidation. The debt was finally paid off in 1989, with the city of Edinburgh losing approximately £500,000.

Several participants were excluded because they breached the amateurism rules, most notably lawn bowlers Phil Skoglund from New Zealand and Willie Wood from Scotland, both of whom have competed in subsequent Games.

Fullbore was competed at Barry Buddon near Dundee.

Smallbore rifle and pistol were situated on the Golf Course in Musselburgh to the east of Edinburgh Shotgun events were also held at Musselburgh

In these games Wales had 15 Shooting competitors. Winning two medals

Bronze medals with Roland Phillips in the Trap event, and Colin Harris and Terry Wakefield in the prone 50m.

1994 Victoria

The 1994 Commonwealth Games were held in Victoria, in the province of British Columbia in Canada, from 18 to 28 August 1994.

The XV Commonwealth Games marked South Africa's return to the Commonwealth Games following the apartheid era.

It was over 30 years since the country last competed in the Games in 1958. Namibia participated in its first Games after gaining independence from South Africa in 1990, and the Caribbean island of Montserrat also made their Games debut. This was Hong Kong's last appearance at the Games before the transfer of sovereignty from Britain to China

The official mascot of the Games was an anthropomorphic killer whale named "Klee Wyck". "Klee Wyck", meaning "the laughing one", was a nickname given to Canadian painter and sculptor Emily Carr by the Ucluelet First Nation.

Ten types of sports were featured at the Victoria Games: athletics, aquatics, badminton, boxing, cycling, gymnastics, lawn bowls, shooting, weightlifting, and wrestling.

In these games Wales had 12 competitors competing in the Shooting events. Winning two medals

1998 Kuala Lumpur

The 1998 Commonwealth Games, officially known as the XVI Commonwealth Games, was a multi-sport event held in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. This edition is marked by several unprecedented facts in the history of the event. The 1998 games were the first held in an Asian country and the last Commonwealth Games of the 20th century.

This was also the first time the games took place in a nation with a head of state other than the Head of the Commonwealth, and the first time the games were held in a country whose majority of the population did not have English as the first language.

For the first time ever, the games included team sports. The other bid from the 1998 games came from Adelaide in Australia. [1] Malaysia was the eighth nation to host the Commonwealth Games after Canada, England, Australia, New Zealand, Wales, Jamaica and Scotland. Around 3638 athletes from 69 Commonwealth member nations participated at the games which featured 214 events in 15 sports with 34 of them collected medals.

In these games Wales had 19 shooting competitors. Winning two medals

2006 Melbourne

The 2006 Commonwealth Games, officially the XVIII Commonwealth Games and commonly known as Melbourne 2006, was an international multi-sport event for members of the Commonwealth held in Melbourne, Victoria, Australia between 15 and 26 March 2006. It was the fourth time Australia had hosted the Commonwealth Games. It was also the largest sporting event to be staged in Melbourne, eclipsing the 1956 Summer Olympics in terms of the number of teams competing, athletes competing, and events being held.

More than 4,000 athletes from 71 Commonwealth Games Associations took part in the event Zimbabwe withdrew its membership from the Commonwealth of Nations and Commonwealth Games Federation on 8 December 2003 and so did not participate in the event. With 245 sets of medals, the games featured 17 Commonwealth sports. These sporting events took place at 13 venues in the host city, two venues in Bendigo and one venue each in Ballarat, Geelong, Lysterfield Park and Traralgon.

The site for the opening and closing ceremonies was the Melbourne Cricket Ground which was also used during 1956 Summer Olympics.^[6] The mascot for the games was Karak, a red-tailed black cockatoo

In these games Wales had 18 shooting competitors. Winning three medals and three fourth places

GOLD medal with David Phelps the 50m Prone men's event, and Bronze medals with Jo Brekke 50m Prone women's event and David Phelps and Griff Morgan in the 50m Men's pairs event.

2010 Delhi

The 2010 Commonwealth Games, officially known as the XIX Commonwealth Games and commonly known as Delhi 2010, was an international multi-sport event that was held in Delhi, India, from 3 to 14 October 2010. A total of 4352 athletes from 71 Commonwealth nations and dependencies competed in 21 sports and 272 events, making it the largest Commonwealth Games to date. It was also the largest international multi-sport event to be staged in Delhi and India, eclipsing the Asian Games in 1951 and 1982.

The opening and closing ceremonies were held at the Jawaharlal Nehru Stadium, the main stadium of the event.

It was the first time that the Commonwealth Games were held in India and the second time they were held in Asia after Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia in 1998. It was also the first time a Commonwealth Republic hosted the games, second in a country not presently headed by British monarch since Malaysia in 1998. The official mascot of the Games was Shera

One medal and two fourth places plus the Several "Personal bests" proved that with the Harsh weather environment of India the Shooting section of Team Wales performed to a high Standard in many of the competitions.

The shooting competitions along with the rest of New Delhi 2006 were a well-run World-class competition. All of the team supported each other at the ranges during competition and also off the ranges and at the Athletes village.

New Delhi 2010 was a success for Team Wales. Shooting was an important part of the overall team effort. The shooting section of Team Wales performed very well giving 100% effort at all times exceeding or nearing their personal bests.

In these games Wales had 22 shooting competitors. Winning one medal. Bronze medal with Jo Brekke in the Women's 50m prone event.

Shooting team was managed by Wm John Dallimore. Coaches, Alastair Cornish SB, Martin Watkins FB, John Hall SG, Steve Pengelly Pistol.

2014 Glasgow

The 2014 Commonwealth Games, officially known as the XX Commonwealth Games and commonly known as Glasgow 2014, was an international multi-sport event celebrated in the tradition of the Commonwealth Games as governed by the Commonwealth Games Federation (CGF). It took place in Glasgow, Scotland, from 23 July to 3 August 2014.

Glasgow was selected as the host city on 9 November 2007 during CGF General Assembly in Colombo, Sri Lanka, defeating Abuja, Nigeria. It was the largest multi-sport event ever held in Scotland with around 4,950 athletes from 71 different nations and territories competing in 18 different sports, outranking the 1970 and 1986 Commonwealth Games in Edinburgh.

The Games received acclaim for their organisation, attendance, and the public enthusiasm of the people of Scotland, with CGF chief executive Mike Hooper hailing them as "the standout games in the history of "the movement". Held in Scotland for the third time, the Games were notable for the successes of the Home Nations of the United Kingdom, with England, Wales and hosts Scotland achieving their largest ever gold medal hauls and overall medal hauls at a Commonwealth Games.

The Barry Buddon Shooting Centre was Located 35/45minutes from the Athletes Village and was constructed on the MOD army camp, parts of which have "SSSI status" thus no legacy will accrue from the Games. They were situated approx. 95 miles (150km) from the main Games village in Glasgow.

On the first visit to BBS it was noted that the Range infrastructure was still in the process of construction but with the actual range facilities all in working order.

Much of the road/pathway infrastructure was incomplete but was serviceably so by the time of the opening (Day one), bearing in mind the temporary nature of the venue.

In these games Wales had 15 shooting competitors. Winning one medal. Silver medal Elena Allen in the Women's Skeet event.

Shooting team was managed by Wm John Dallimore.
Coaches, Robert Riddett SB, Richard Stepney SG, Martin Watkins FB, Steve Pengelly Pistol.
